

Curriculum Content Understanding	K	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Enduring Understandings	Packer is a school community and our school community is connected to communities in other places	The Ndonyo Wasin community has a school, a medical center, a church, a weekly market, a pre-school, and a small group of permanent homes. The people who live and work there are...	The Samburu community adapts to its natural environment and changes it to suit their wants and needs. Samburu children have different roles in their community.	We can learn a lot about our cultures through storytelling. People in different parts of the world have stories that convey messages about our cultures and communities. Stories are preserved and passed down in different ways. We all have stories to tell.	The Samburu value multiple forms of education.
Essential Questions	How is the Packer community similar or different from the Ndonyo Wasin school community?	Who lives in Ndonyo Wasin and what are their roles?	How does the Samburu's natural environment affect the life of a child?	How do the stories from our cultures and communities teach others and us about who we are? How do we preserve and share our stories?	Why is education important? How do the Samburu ensure they have a voice in the world? What are they in danger of losing? What are the different kinds of education for the Samburu? Why is each important?